

Parent Advisory Council
Announces a presentation on:

The Importance of Transition Planning

Presented by:
The Connecticut Autism Spectrum Resource Center, Inc.

April 8, 2010
7:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.
Adams Middle School
Chorus Room

Lois Rosenwald is the mother of a grown son with Asperger's syndrome, and is the founder of the Greater New Haven PDD/Asperger's Network: the first group of its kind in CT; also founder and Executive Director of the Connecticut Autism Spectrum Resource Center. The Center does most of the training in the state for both families and school personnel. She has been actively involved for years (legislatively) advocating for appropriate services for individuals in Connecticut with ASD, and for their families.

This is the fourth of a series of presentations that is being offered by Parent Advisory Council, a subsidiary of the Pupil Services Department's Parent Academy. For more details refer to www.guilford.k12.ct.us or contact Co-Chairs: Tom Gray, Gina Little, or Dr. Patricia Brett, Pupil Services Director at (203) 453-0128.

DISCLAIMER: These presentations are under the auspices of the P.A.C. They are for the sole purposes of introducing parents to various organizations that might be of help in raising children. The Guilford School District does not endorse these organizations.
